There are times when fear is good for us In fact, fear can save a person's life take man in danger. For example, he may suddenly find that he can run faster and longer than he ever thought he could.

This is not imagination. It is because his fear is helping him. Here is what happens. When we feel fear, a change takes place in our bodies. Our livers give off some of the sugar that they store. This sugar goes into the blood and is quickly changed into energy and it is this energy that gives more strength and helps us act fast. This is how fear may save one's life.

201-fear causes a change in our bodies by.....

Ducks stay dry because their feathers are kept well oiled. Oil and water do not mix. A duck oils itself often when rain is falling and while it swims in a pond. It bends back and rubs its head in oil from small glands at the base of its tail. The oil goes on its head first. Then the duck oils feathers with its head. The ducks feathers have a good supply of oil. Also, they are placed very close together. This, too helps keep the duck dry. Water cannot go through the feathers.

The sun's family.

Planets are not stars. They have no light of their own. They can only reflect the sun's light. There are nine planets in the sun's family of planets. They are Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Neptun and Pluto. The sun's family is called the solar system. Mercury is the smallest planet of the solar system.

Venus is a beautiful planet. It has a soft light. It is often called the evening star and sometimes it is also called the morning star. Although of course it is not really a star.

Mars has a bright. Are there people on Mars? Perhaps we can find out now. With our modem space rockets. Jupiter is the next. It is a giant planet, and its light is very bright. Saturn has a lot of rings around it. Earth and Neptun have only one moon each. A moon is a satellite.
